SERIOUS CHARGE FOLLOWS FUNERAL

Undertakers Cause Arrest of Minnie Gary.

Accuse Her of False Swearing About
Alleged Assignment of Life
Policy.

CIVIL ACTION IS PENDING.

As the sequel to the death and burial of her mother, Minnie Gary, a young woman, living at 1008 North Tenth street, was presented in the police court before Judge Edward Puryear today on the charge of false swearing. By agreement her trial was continued until August 22.

The young woman was arrested on a warrant secured in the court of Magistrate Charles Emery on complaint of Fred Roth, manager of the Matti-Effinger Undertaking company, 139 South Third street.

According to the affidavit the daughter carried an insurance policy on her mother's life. Wishing to give her mother a proper burial, it is alleged that she contracted with the undertakers for an expensive casket, giving them an order for $51 on the insurance agency for the balance of the account.

According to the undertaking company, Miss Gary collected the insurance money before they presented the order alleged to have been given the firm. They brought action against the woman in Magistrate Emery's court, at which it is alleged that Miss Gary denied signing the order for the $51.

Mr. Roth and an assistant or two swore that Miss Gary did sign the order for $51 of the insurance policy. The undertakers are still whistling for the money.

THIS IS THE WORST.

Town Holds Election and Incorporates
Without a House.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 15.—This modern "boom" town, fifteen miles from the city limits of Chicago has held its first election and is now on the map. Despite the fact that its 2,000 inhabitants are living in tents and there is not a permanent building in the town, the citizens marched to the polls and elected a mayor and city council. The council quickly passed its first ordinance annexing 6,000 acres of Indian land including the villages of Buffington, Smith's Junction and Toleston, giving the new town an area greater than Springfield, Ill., or most of the large towns of Indiana.

GAMBLERS EJECTED BY TROOPS

First Illinois Cavalry Puts Them Out at Camp Lincoln.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—Gamblers who have reaped a harvest from some of the regiments that have come to Camp Lincoln this year were dealt a blow today when they arrived at the soldiers' quarters with their outlay of dice and playing cards. When the small band of "crap shooters" and poker players entered the gate they were seized by the "guard of the First Illinois Cavalry and placed under arrest. Afterward, under orders, they were drilled out of the grounds with a warning not to return.

FEUD MAY FOLLOW

As Result of Shooting of Tom Harman by Father-in-law.

Welch, W. Va., August 15.—Tom Harman was brought to Miner's hospital here tonight from Berwind. It is alleged he was shot through the head by his father-in-law, Marion Lambert, after a series of family troubles resembling the Hatfield-McCoy feud in its early stage. It is said Lambert shot him without warning, and deliberately walked away defying any one to arrest him. The relatives of Harman are now scouring the mountains and a general slaughter is expected if the opposing forces meet. Lambert is known to have several of his relatives with him. The authorities are making arrangements to swear in a force of deputies for the apprehension of the murderer.

SEWER PLANS

ARE ON THEIR WAY FROM THE
OFFICE IN CHICAGO.

Board of Public Works Will Meet Today to Consider Routine Business—The Bridge.

City Engineer Washington has received word from Sanitary Engineer Alvord of Chicago, that the plans and specifications have been completed. Mr. Washington will submit them to the sewerage committee of the general council as soon as they arrive.

Mr. Washington has not secured all the plans for the Island creek bridge from the bridge firms with which he has been in communication, so that matter will be deferred until a later meeting of the board of public works.

The board will meet this afternoon at the city hall. So far as is known, there will be nothing except routine work on hand.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 15.—Having a firm belief that it was not his time to die, and refusing to the last to call in a physician, Patrick Powell, aged 26, a young railroad clerk, died here today. He was recently injured internally, and physicians state he died of his injuries.

RIVER PIRATES

STEAL ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS
WORTH OF ROPE.

First Theft Since Authorities Drove Shanty-Boatmen Out of This County.

The first report of river pirates, to reach police headquarters since the raid on "tramp" shanty-boaters several weeks ago by county and city officers, came today when a complaint was registered by the West Kentucky Coal company with main offices at Second and Ohio streets. Over a $100 worth of rope was stolen from one of their fleets moored in the "Ducks Nest" above Mechanicsburg late Tuesday night. The rope was a two-inch line and had only been in service a few days. The police are on the hunt for several pirates who are under suspicion.

JOLIET FEARS CHANNEL WALLS

Will Appoint Experts to Examine Water Power Dams Above City.

Joliet, Ill., August 15.—The city council of Joliet today passed a resolution authorizing the employment of a board of expert engineers to ascertain whether the walls now being constructed north of Joliet for the development of additional water power are safe. It is alleged that the cement is of inferior quality and that the walls will not hold the volume of water that will be turned against them when the new channel is opened. A flood is feared from possible breaks.

Butte, Mont., August 15.—Former United States Senator Lee Mantle of Butte today announced his candidacy for United States senator.

EIGHT VACANCIES ON SCHOOL BOARD

To Be Filled at the Regular November Election.

Only Two of Seven, Whose Terms Expire, Are Actively Seeking Re-election.

ONE TRUSTEE CHANGES WARD.

Eight vacancies will exist in the school board to be filled in the November election. Aside from the seven members whose terms regularly expire, it is understood that another member will move from one ward to another necessitating his resignation from the board.

Of the seven members, who will go out, only two express positive intention of seeking re-election. Trustees Beckenbach and Byrd will be candidates. Mr. Louis Petter will not run again. Dr. J. S. Troutman "has enough." President Williamson will abide by the decision of his party in the matter. If he is needed he will run. Secretary Pitcher would be willing to step aside for some new, good man should the party desire to put him up. Mr. Gailman, of the First ward, has not been seen, but it is understood, that he is not enthusiastic for another term.

It is rumored that one member whose term expires this year will be the candidate of a different party from the one which elected him first. The deadlock over the election of teachers has caused most of the decisions not to run again.

President Williamson stated this morning that a called meeting of the board may be had at any time three members agree to issue the call. The next regular meeting of the board comes only a few days before the schools open and if the vacancies still exist, it will be the duty of the committee on examinations and course of study to fill them.

SOLD BAD CANNED GOODS.

English Magistrate Holds Ignorance of Contents No Excuse.

Brighton, England, August 15.—A case involving the responsibility of retailers of canned goods was heard here today in which a merchant was charged with exposing for sale 38 tins of chicken unfit for human consumption. In defense it was contended that it was absolutely impossible for the dealer to know the condition of the food when there was nothing externally to indicate that the content of the cans were unsound. Nevertheless, the merchant was fined, the magistrate holding him amenable to the law, as he was in possession of the goods.

BELVEDERE ANNEX ALONG BROADWAY

Will Be Two Stories High and Include Two Store Rooms.

Growing Business of Concern Makes More Room Necessary—For the Samples.

ARCHITECT MAKING THE PLANS

An annex to the hotel Belvedere, two stories high, will be built on the ground now occupied by the Niehman Trunk factory and formerly by the Goodman & Schwab store at 206-208 Broadway.

The old buildings will be torn away and new ones to cost $5,000 will be built. The lower floors will be store rooms and on the upper floors will be eight sample rooms for the hotel. They will be steam-heated and have all modern conveniences.

At present the sample rooms for the Belvedere are on the fifth floor of the hotel building. The new rooms will increase the capacity of the hotel, which is growing in patronage. The annex will be built by the owners of the hotel property and the plans are being completed in Architect Lassiter's office.

INSPECTORS SHY AT BADGE "23"

"Skidoo" Number Goes Begging and Commissioner Bartzens Is "0."

Chicago, August 15.—Not one of the building inspectors wants to be "No. 23." Badges were given out yesterday, but the "skidoo" combination was side-stepped. It finally was forced upon Peter McGinnis, who crossed his fingers when he took it. He has thirteen letters in his name.

The number of Commissioner Bartzens' badge is "0," although the men in his office say he is above zero.

AN AUTOMOBILE.

Will Talk About Matters of Contemporaneous International Interest.

Cronberg, Prussia, August 15.—King Edward arrived this morning for conference with Emperor William. The meeting was most enthusiastic. WOMAN VOTER OWNS TO FRAUD.

Admits She Was Given Tax Receipt by Denver Corporation Employee.

Denver, Aug. 15.—That the ballot is not always sacred even when in the hands of woman, if big corporations are anxious to put through franchise grants was shown at today's session of the inquiry into alleged frauds on the part of the corporation at the last election. Mrs. Jennie W. Bump testified to having voted on a tax receipt given to her son, an employee of the gas company.

PADUCAHAN

SAID TO HAVE FIGURED IN A
FIGHT AT FULTON.

C. E. Renfro, According to Press Dispatch, Engaged in Altercation
With H. F. Oliver.

Fulton, Ky., August 15.—A sensational fight occurred today on the principal street of the city, the belligerents being Henry F. Oliver, a well-known capitalist of this city, and C. E. Renfro, of Paducah, Ky. Both men weigh more than 200 pounds and were evenly matched. They had a dispute over some trivial matter and came to blows. They were at it fist and skull when several bystanders separated them. Both were more or less battered up. Both were arrested, but released.

C. E. Renfro is a salesman for Meyer, Schmid, Clark & company, wholesale grocers, 120-122 South Third street. He lives at 730 Jefferson street, and is well-known among Paducah traveling men, being a prominent member of the Paducah Traveling Men's club. W. C. Clark, manager of the grocery company, said today to a reporter for The Sun that no news of the fight had been received by the house. He only knew that Mr. Renfro sent in a big lot of sales to the house from Fulton last night and was still down in that section seeing his customers.

BEE NOT BUZZING

IN OLLIE JAMES' BONNET AC-CORDING TO HIS STORY.

Denies Report That He Has Been Selected as Bryan's Running Mate.

During his short visit in Paducah Congressman Ollie James denied the story that he has the vice-presidential bee in his bonnet.

"That is the most absurd thing I have heard," he remarked to a friend who inquired about the report. "Mr. Bryan has not been nominated as yet himself, and he would hardly be selecting his running mate this early, even if he was expected to make the selection. No, I am not seeking the vice-presidential nomination, and am not trimming my course with that end in view."

SOLDIERS DISCONTENTED.

Trans Caucasus Troops Are Causing Apprehension.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—Fresh evidence of discontent among the troops was furnished by soldiers at Trans-Caucasia. Advice state that the situation is serious and open revolt would cause no surprise. Tiflis barracks are badly affected. Even the Cossacks rebelled to the extent of doing police duty and made threats against their officers. Many arrests were made.

Will Be Argued Friday.

Toronto, Ont., August 15.—Argument of the injunction granted by Mr. Justice McMahon restraining H. M. and Mary B. Neely, of Memphis, Tenn., from removing H. S. Sneed, the 12-year-old child of Mrs. Jesse Fenton Taylor, from the province of Ontario, was today continued until Friday.

TRACTION LINES TO CENTER HERE

Prophecy Based on Splendid
Location of Paducah.

Plans for Route to Hickman Meeting
With Success—Immigration Movement.

INTERURBAN MEN ARE COMING

Paducah is bound to be a great center for interurban railroads because her excellent location on the Ohio river, makes her the best transfer point for Illinois and Kentucky lines. Then, too, her unassailable position as the first city west of Louisville, gives her the prestige, which will bring all the Western Kentucky lines to her. This will make Paducah the center of systems now in incubation and she will, with these added connecting links, draw trade from all the surrounding territory.

These points were strongly dwelt on in a letter received by the Commercial club from W. E. Aton, of Milburn, secretary of the Southern Land and Lumber company, who is interested in the proposed electric line to Hickman.

Mr. Aton, also, is greatly interested in the Southwestern Kentucky immigration movement, as he realizes that the increased population and added value of lands will aid his projects by affording his lines a more prosperous country to traverse. He says he will be here to attend the meeting October 4-5.

A letter of the same tenor was received from the Porter Pottery company, of Clinton. That city will have a Commercial club shortly, which will co-operate with the Paducah organization.

The letters follow:
Your valued letter of August 4 received, contents noted. Am a member of the Rock Island and Frisco Railroad company Southern Emigration bureau, but you have my hearty support in developing Southwest Kentucky and I will become a member of your bureau. I am very busy gathering data concerning our electric railway from Paducah to Hickman, Ky., and will complete same in next day or two and let you have same. Will do my best to arrange to be with you at your meeting of October 4-5. There is no reason for this country being 25 or 30 years behind. With a little energy and push we will lead and others follow.

Paducah is the coming city. There is no doubt. Her river front is the best anywhere for floating stock, for terminal, for electric railway. I will show this to you in a short time, as I have everything in perfect order and data that cannot be disputed.

—W. E. ATON.

Replying to your favor of August 10, beg to say, I heartily endorse the effort of your club on immigration proposition and have signed your pledge to attend your meetings Oct. 4th and 5th, and I know nothing in the way to prevent my being present.

With regard to the electric railway from Paducah to Hickman I enclose you a letter from one, Mr. J. P. Hornaday, of 18 Wall street, N. Y., and you may read it and consider it for what it is worth.

I am answering his letter today, giving him as great encouragement as possible.

Last Thursday I met in Memphis the Hon. Dick Tyler, of Hickman, and he informed me that he has been in communication with this New York man for some time and he believes this man is in earnest and that with proper encouragement and help along the line, from Paducah to Hickman that the matter can get in shape for the work and he believes that the line will pay and pay well.

We will organize here at an early date a Commercial club, whose secretary will be instructed to co-operate with you and the Hickman club and any other club along the line in this and any other like interest of the purchase.

Yesterday's Results.

Mattoon, 9; Jacksonville, 5.
Paducah-Vincennes—Rain.
Cairo-Danville—Mud.

It was raining with a big stock of water on hand when it was time to call the game between Paducah and Vincennes at Wallace park yesterday and the exhibition was postponed until this afternoon. The first game was ordered called for 3 o'clock. The pitchers who will do all in their power to carry both struggles to the Indian camp will be Brahic and Wright. Both lads are in good condition and willing and it is a good break that Paducah will have the large end of the score when returns are counted tonight.

Mattoon Lost Another.

Jacksonville, Aug. 15.—Lotshaw pounded one over the fence in the first inning yesterday with two men on bases. This extracted all the elixir from Mattoon and Jacksonville won in a walk.

The score: R H E
Mattoon 0 3 1
Jacksonville 5 6 3
Batteries—Jokerst and Johnstone; Allen and Belt.

No Game at Slopman's Park.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 15.—A heavy rain which fell early yesterday left Sportsman's park in a sloppy way causing the Cairo and Danvilles to stay in the city.

Cairo had a bigger lead in 1904 than Vincennes has at present and at the same time had a team 200 per cent stronger, yet a streak of bad luck caused her to lose 15 out of the last 17 games played, leaving Cairo winning the pennant by the narrow margin of two games over Paducah. And yet some people are prone to throw up both hands and cry quits. Never! Cairo will fight it out.

Paducah won the pennant that year.

The gauge registered a stage of 7.8 this morning, the river being on a stand here. Rainfall in the last 24 hours was .36 inches. Business at the wharf today was good.

The government surveying party and office boats towed by the Wave Rock left this morning for Brookport. The Emerson showboat arrived early this morning towed by the Antionette, to go on the ways for repairs. The Harvester and the show boat will be on the ways at the same time.

The City of Savannah arrived last night from St. Louis and left immediately for the Tennessee river.

The tow boat Margaret left this morning for the Tennessee river after tea.

The Clyde arrived from Joppa last night and will leave this evening at 6 o'clock for the Tennessee river as far as Waterloo Ala.

The Joe Fowler arrived and left for Evansville today.

The Saltito probably will leave St. Louis this evening for the Tennessee river arriving here Friday morning.

The Dick Fowler left on time for Cairo this morning with a good passenger trip.

The Kentucky will arrive from the Tennessee river Thursday night and lie over until Saturday morning before returning.

On board the government surveying boats the opinion was expressed that Paducah was the best river town they had seen yet. They thought more boats arrived and departed, and that the general appearance was sprightlier than that of any town they had seen.

The Cowling made her regular trips today between Paducah and Metropolis.

Edward E. Wilson, of Paducah, in charge of the coal combine's fleet stationed at Vicksburg, Miss., is visiting his parents and sisters in this city. He reports that the Ohio Valley company's branch dry docks at that place are doing a good business repairing boats and barges.

Judging from the way business has increased on the river during the past several months, and the outlook being promising for an increase this fall and winter there will not only be plenty for the boats on the Ohio river to get away with the business.

There is really a demand in many trades already for more boats, and a number are being built. The railroads can't do it all, and the boats will get the bulk of the business. Come on with your nine-foot stage in the Ohio. It will not take long to build the boats, and it won't take long for the boats to get the business. —Courier-Journal.

CHILDREN IN PAIN

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial.

FIGHT FOUR DAYS TO PUT OUT BLAZE

Fire Meets With Stubborn Resistance.

The Dump Heap at Second and Monroe Streets Proves Menace to Property.

CHIEF WILL CAUSE ARREST

One of the most stubborn blazes the Paducah fire department has had to contend with in years has just been extinguished at Second and Monroe streets, where smoldering embers under a ten foot heap of refuse have been sending up sparks and smoke, and threatening with the aid of a breeze to ignite the gas plant and the stables of the Paducah Transfer company.

There is a 20-foot depression in the lot and the owner has been allowing persons to dump dirt and refuse in the hole. It is about half filled, a large proportion of the filling being composed of paper and straw.

Sparks from engines crossing on the trestle of the Illinois Central distributing track, ignited the straw and paper and the fire burned down under the heap. In order to accomplish any good the firemen were compelled to stick the nozzle of the hose under the heap of refuse and put on full pressure. They worked four days before the fire was finally extinguished.

The city authorities have no objection to the dumping of dirt and heavy articles on vacant lots to fill in holes, but it is contrary to an ordinance to throw waste paper and combustible material around.

Chief Wood stated that he will watch the dump hereafter and swear out a warrant for the first person caught throwing paper or straw on the lot.

Out of the Mouths of Babies.

When the May and June baby has got well acquainted, they exchanged confidences.

"My milk comes from a certified cow," said the May baby.

"So does mine," said the June baby.

"It is milked by a man in a white suit, with sterilized hands through absorbent cotton, and kept at a temperature of forty-five degrees."

"So is mine."

"It is brought to me in a prophylactic wagon drawn by a modified horse."

"So is mine."

"Then how in thunder do you manage to be so fat and well?"

The June baby winked slyly.

"I chew old paper and the corner of rugs and anything I can find that is dirty, and in this way I manage to maintain the bacterial balance which is essential to health," he said, chuckling.

The May baby laughed long and loud.

"So do I," said he.

The mamma heard the goo-gooing, but they assigned to it only the usual fantastic significance. It is just as well.—Life.

She Was.

West End avenue man undertook to meet his unknown girl cousin at the station the other day. He approached a young woman in blue and asked:

"Are you Miss Blake?"

"No," said the young woman, "I am not."

"I hope you will excuse me," he explained. "I am here to meet a Miss Blake. She is my cousin. I have never seen her. My sister Kate is the only member of our family who knows her and she couldn't come. She told me I would know Jennie because she is so pretty. 'Just pick out the prettiest girl in the station and you'll be sure to strike Jennie,' she said."

The young woman blushed, the young man sighed.

"I don't know who to ask next," he said. "There doesn't seem to be anybody else in the whole shooting match that comes up to the description. I guess Jennie didn't come."

A tall girl in brown sat beside the girl in blue. "She did," said the girl in brown.

"Oh, Lord," said he, "are you—"

"I am," said the girl in brown.

And of course nobody could expect a girl to be friends with a man after that.—New York Sun.

WAR OF BALLOONS

AT CINCINNATI'S GREAT INDUSTRIAL SHOW.

"The Blue Moon" and "Fighting the Flames" Spectacles of Fall Festival.

CINCINNATI, O., August 15.—Years ago Cincinnati was given the name "The Mother of Expositions." Those industrial shows of old pale in comparison with the Fall Festivals held on the sites of earlier triumphs of National prominence. The Festival of 1906—the first in three years—will eclipse in every way all its predecessors. On the night of the opening, August 28, a war of balloons will afford a serial spectacle of a magnitude never before attempted. Twenty thousand 14-foot paper balloons will be sent up all over Cincinnati at a given signal, and while dynamite bombs hurled high are exploding, sending their thunderous echoes for miles around, the entire sky will be covered with the flaming voyagers of the air. Balloon will collide with balloon and the sight will be one of unique novelty.

The Fall Festival is to last four weeks and has been well defined as a "World's Fair in Tabloid Form." The Washington Park shows are grouped around the fountain and will be on the order of the famous "Pike" at St. Louis and include "The Hippodrome," patterned after New York's big amusement palace; the Temple of Art, Haile's Tours, House of Nonsense and Palace of Aladdin. The Backwoods Inn is a place of refreshment and vaudeville combined. Paris has her Chateau le Mortel, and the Fall Festival House of Death is a miniature of one of the most famous cafes in the world. The service will be on coffins, and under the glass at the head of each black casket will blink the red eyes of a grinning skull. The chairs will be made of whitened bones.

These shows are merely incidental to great industrial features and a Government Exhibit worth talking about. At Music Hall, "The Blue Moon," staged by the Shuberts through the courtesy of the Heuck Opera House Company of Cincinnati, lessees of the Lyric Theater, will be given its first American presentation. This is the musical spectacle that enthused London for over a year. It cost $75,000 to place "The Blue Moon" in American atmosphere. James T. Powers is the leading comedian of the star cast and 250 people take part.

"Fighting the Flames"—the show which has made such tremendous hits at Luna Park, Coney Island, and at the White City, in Chicago—will be put on back of the Exposition Building, the scene of "Marco Polo's" success. Claude Hagen, who originated the spectacle of fire fighting, is in charge of the Cincinnati construction.

The Fall Festival is Cincinnati's greatest amusement and industrial offering to the country, and preparations are now under way to entertain hundreds of thousands of visitors from August 28 to September 22. Special round-trip rates to Cincinnati have been made by all the railroads—an official ruling that stamps the importance of the Fall Festival as a National event.

GOOD WORK

Done Daily in Paducah—Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Paducah still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Mrs. George Romain, of 726 Tennessee street, says: "For three years my back was lame and ached severely, particularly under the shoulder-blades, despite the use of medicine. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Alvey & List's drug store. They are easy to take, they cure you without causing any annoyance, and if I can judge from my present condition, when they cure you stay cured."

ONE-FOURTH OFF ON ODD TROUSERS

Buy a Pair and Make an Old Suit New

THIS sale is probably awaited with more interest than any of our money-saving cut price sales, with the exception of the suit sale, as the economical dressers recognize the opportunities it affords of making a new suit out of an old one by the addition of a pair of odd trousers. The trousers usually wear out long before the coat to a suit seems worn, and the addition of a new pair renews the suit.

In this sale we have put all of our odd trousers, and there are just any number of most excellent bargains in the lot—the famous Paragon trousers being among them.

TWO CENT FARE

IS COSTING PITTSBURG HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS.

Eastern Ohio People Can Go to Cleveland Cheaper Than to Adjoining State.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says the new law fixing 2 cents as the fare for passenger traffic in Ohio is taking trade away from Pittsburg to Cleveland and other Ohio points, illustrating the way the law works, the Dispatch says: Hundreds of thousands of dollars in trade have been lost to Pittsburg merchants and business men in the past few months, thousands more are being lost daily, and the railroads entering the city from Ohio territory are exacting tribute of thousands daily from travelers, since the new Ohio 2-cent railroad fare law has been placed in operation. Instead of lessening rates and bringing more business into the city, as many have construed the effect of the law would be, it is resulting in exactly the opposite and is confining trade to Ohio cities, and acting as a discrimination against Pittsburg and Pennsylvania. The Merchants and Manufacturers' association has been quietly at work investigating the subject for the past month or more and has unearthed information that leads to the belief that Pittsburg is losing enormously through the conflict in rates in the two states.

There were present about 75 persons and all enjoyed themselves very much.—Mayfield Messenger.

ASKS $1,000 FOR NAP IN CAR.

Illinois Politician Who Passed Station Sues Pullman Company.

East St. Louis Ill., Aug. 15.—Because he failed to reach Okaville in time to make his speech July 1, S. W. Baxter, a prominent Republican of this city private secretary to Supreme Judge A. K. Vickers has sued the Pullman Car company for $1,000, the amount he thinks his speech would have been worth to him. On the trip to Okaville Baxter fell asleep and the Pullman conductor and porter failed to awaken him. He got off at the next station and had to walk half way back to Okaville, the remainder of the five miles being made in an ox wagon that he hired from a farmer. The wagon drew up at the picnic just as the people were leaving and Baxter was unable to deliver his speech.

KICKED BY MULE.

Prominent Calloway County Man in Serious Condition.

Kicked in the head by a mule, which he was examining with a view of purchasing, J. W. Hubb, a prominent citizen of Murray, was rendered unconscious and seriously hurt at Cherry, Calloway county, yesterday. His skull was crushed in just above his eyes, and Dr. William Mason, who attended him, removed several pieces of bone. Mr. Hubb recovered from the shock and seems to be resting well, although he is not out of danger.

Don't get into the way of thinking, "Oh, this is so small and unimportant that it makes no difference how I do it."

AUGUST WEATHER

RECORD FOR THIRTY-SIX YEARS LED BY YEAR 1879.

Heavy Precipitation During First Two Weeks of This Month Bring It Well Up.

The greatest amount of rainfall on record here, for the entire month of August during the last 36 years, is 7.95 inches. This occurred in August, 1879. The least amount was 0.11 of an inch in 1881. The greatest 24-hour rain fall in August was 3.10 inches in 1879. The average rain fall of the month for 36 years past is 2.65 inches, so that during the first half of the present month the average for the whole month has been nearly doubled.

Rain has fallen nearly every day for over a week.

A remarkable record has been made by the weather this month in the matter of precipitation.

OUR RIVERS.

How many people appreciate the significance of the survey being made by government engineers of the Ohio river? How many realize the far-reaching results of the movement, which has its local interest in the proposed nine foot stage in the Ohio river?

Far to the west, where the wheat belt and the mineral producing regions are tapped by the upper tributaries of the Mississippi; above Pittsburg, where a world's supply of coal is stored by nature; down among the bayous of Mississippi and Louisiana, where the cotton and the cane are growing, the producers are simply awaiting that time when by proper government dredging continuous communication by water will afford them cheap facilities for the interchange of their products.

More than this, a canal from the Great Lakes to the Mississippi river and eastward to the Hudson river, giving an outlet from the inland waterways to the ocean by two routes, are proposed. What further developments of great canal highways may be seen in the future only can measure.

Already we are beginning to see what the Panama canal will mean in connection with our waterways system, giving us all water transportation from the heart of the wealth-producing inland states to the Orient and to Europe. Never again will the old-time sea the halcyon days of the river traffic, when the gay palaces of pleasure and sin raced to New Orleans; for the steamboat is too slow for this generation; but in the freight trade and packet lines will find themselves beneficiaries of a trade undreamed of by the older rivermen.

Here, too, we find the solution of the transportation rates. With the river trade strengthened by a certainty of an all-the-year-around stage, and amplified by a system of connecting canals, the railroads will be forced to meet the river rate, where the two systems of transportation come into direct competition, and the interstate commerce laws will compel the extension of the same rates to other points.

Questions of utility play some part in the construction of sidewalks, and while we may uphold a board occasionally in disregarding the ill-prompted requests of abutting property owners, the petition of the property owners along the downtown streets should be heeded when they ask for full width sidewalks. Farther out the six-foot sidewalk with the grass plot next to the curb is perfectly proper and the most desirable because of its beauty, but along Kentucky avenue and Jefferson street, and the cross streets, over which there is constant travel, the six-foot sidewalks are scarcely wide enough to accommodate pedestrians. Every circus day and every other day when there are special attractions on the street, Jefferson street and Kentucky avenue and the cross streets are filled

IMPRESSIONISM.

The Critic: "That's all right. Only I hope you'll never see it as you paint it!"

BUCKET SHOPS MUST GO.

Is the Edict of Attorney General of Kansas.

Topeka, Kas., August 15.—A crusade against bucket shops is to be inaugurated by Attorney General Coleman under the state bucket shop law enacted seven years ago, but which has never been enforced. "We shall try to drive the bucket shops out of the state," said F. S. Jackson, assistant attorney general. "They can be closed under the nuisance clause of the statute and we can fine and imprison the owners of the buildings in which bucket shops are allowed to operate."

UP TO THE HAGUE.

Committee Wants to Take the Drago Doctrine.

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 15.—The sub-committee of the International American conference on the Drago doctrine today agreed on a resolution even more general than one on the program. It is recommended that each American nation, at its discretion, request the Hague tribunal to study the questions of forcible collection of public debts and pecuniary claims of all nature.

Falls From Train But Is Unhurt.
Springfield, Ill., August 15.—Five-year-old Tony Barringer today fell from the window of a Baltimore and Ohio train near Philadelphia, Ill., going 45 miles an hour, and not so much as a bad scratch was the result of his fall. He is in no way out of condition to enjoy his visit at Panama, where he was going when the accident occurred. Tony was with his parents and brother, who were on their way from Abington, where they reside, to Panama. After the custom of children, he was leaning out of the window, and after being pulled back several times by his mother, took the first opportunity to fall out. The train was stopped and several men held the father from jumping out after his son. When the child was picked up he was jolly and absolutely unhurt.

Shot From Ambush.
Marietta, I. T., August 15.—The killing of Dr. Graham, of Holder, I. T., who was shot dead about a month ago by Ben Steward, was avenged this afternoon when unknown persons shot Steward from ambush, killing him instantly. Col. Steward, brother of the dead man, eluded the assassins by whipping his horses into a run.

Firemen in Session.
Omaha, Neb., August 15.—The annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen began a four days session here this morning. The morning session was called to order by President Timothy Healey of New York. The sessions of the convention will be executive throughout.

Apple Growers Meet.
St. Louis, August 15.—The fourth annual convention of the American Apple Growers' association met here today with about 200 delegates present. The convention will be in session two days hearing papers and discussing apple raising and marketing and will elect new officers.

Latin-American Club.
San Jose, Costa Rica, August 15.—An international association entitled the Latin-American club has been formed here and will be extended through all the Latin-American countries. A general meeting will be held soon.

Riot Over Taxation.

FLETCHER CASE IS PASSED ONE DAY

Dr. Pendley's Assailant Will be Presented Tomorrow.

Said to Have Been in Trouble on Several Previous Occasions—Uncle Was Hanged.

OTHER POLICE COURT CASES

The trial of Gabo Fletcher, colored, who is charged with maliciously assaulting Dr. J. W. Pendley, a prominent physician, was continued in the police court today until Thursday on account of absent witnesses. Strict orders were issued by Judge Edward Puryear to have the witnesses on hand and the trial will likely be finished at tomorrow's session. Fletcher has been in trouble many times. He is a nephew of Wash Fletcher, a negro "Hoo-doo" doctor, who was legally hanged in Paducah several years ago for the murder of his wife and mother-in-law.

Alexander McClure, a diminutive negro, charged with disorderly conduct, as a result of swinging on a moving freight train in the Illinois Central railroad yards, was turned over to the juvenile section of the county court. He gave his age at 13, which is three years too young for his case to receive attention in the police court.

Thomas Gardner was fined $10 and costs for a breach of ordinance as a result of failing to clean an out house on his property on Third street between Harrison and Madison streets.

The trial of Tom Carter, a negro charged with breach of peace, was continued until Thursday.

C. E. Miller was fined $2 and costs for firing a small "cat rifle" in the city limits. This is a violation of a city ordinance.

TOO MUCH RED TAPE.

Required in Handling the Government's Commissaries.

Washington, August 15.—An opinion of the attorney-general has been asked by the war department as to the application of section 5 of the sundry bill in the purchase and handling of supplies known as "sales stores" for the commissary department of the army. This section requires a detailed report to be made within 30 days after the end of the fiscal year. The commissary department transacts a business amounting to nearly $3,000,000 a year. The money to carry on this business is borrowed from the regular annual appropriation and is returned to that fund from time to time. It would require an elaborate set of books and a great many clerks to keep an account of this business in such shape that a detailed statement could be made of every transaction. The sale of a tooth brush would require the same detail as a transaction involving hundreds of thousands of dollars.

MAD DOG SCARE

Started by Action of "Fitty" Canine and Ended by Bullet.

A large dog, suddenly seized with a fit, gave rise to the cry of "mad dog" on South Third street early today, and sent people scattering to places of safety. It was the only living object within sight of the corner of Third and Tennessee streets until Patrolman James Brennan brought his magazine pocket gun into action.

The patrolman was on the scene and in full chase after the dog within a few minutes after the first alarm was given. Although the dog did not attempt to attack any one its actions and appearance succeeded in starting a panic and the foamed-flecked cur had both sides of the street to himself. Patrolman Brennan ran the dog into the yard of a residence at 818 Third street. One steel jacketed bullet was sufficient to end the life of the dog and bring several dozen people from cover.

COAT BURNED.

Lighted Pipe in Mr. Gridley's Pocket Starts Fire.

While riding with Earl Foreman in his automobile, C. E. Gridley placed his pipe in his side coat pocket, without taking care to clean out the bowl. The breeze passing through the thin summer garment fanned the coals into a blaze, and before he observed it, Mr. Gridley's coat was in flames. One side of it burned out before the fire was extinguished.

Increase in Gold Output.

Washington, August 15.—The world's flood of gold goes steadily on. Silver has reached the highest price it has commanded in many years, and is just now moving sharply higher. The mint report on the world's gold production, coming out soon, will indicate that something like $425,000,000 of the precious metal was produced last year. The preceding year about $375,000,000 was the output. Next year's record will bring the half billion mark in sight; in fact, will pass it if big developments that are expected in Africa and Alaska come off.

Theatrical Notes

In spite of the threatening weather another good house greeted the opera company last night in its second bill, "Olivette," and the same cordial treatment was accorded the performers that greeted their efforts the first night.

The repertoire for the remainder of the week is:
Wednesday, Girofle-Girofla.
Thursday, Chimes of Normandy.
Friday, Beggar Prince.
Saturday, Olivette.

At The Kentucky.

Manager Roberts is hurrying the improvements on the Kentucky theater in preparation of the opening August 23, when "His Highness, the Bey," will be presented. The paper of the company is in and the agent is expected today.

The whole theater is receiving attention at the hands of the cleaners and painters. The entrance will be newly painted and the lobby is nearly finished. Not only the audience, but the actors will be pleased when the work is completed, as the dressing rooms are being painted and furnished with new carpets.

Manager Roberts has booked the "County Chairman," George Ade's best hit, for October 2.

IN THE COURTS

Injured in Street.

For the return of a gashed forehead and a fractured thumb, F. N. Gardner, Jr., senior member of the firm of F. N. Gardner & company, furniture dealers, at 11-116 South Third street, asks that he be allowed $2,150 damages. Edward Bridges, a contractor of Wabash, Ind., who is building many blocks of new streets in Paducah, is named as the defendant in a suit filed in the circuit court this afternoon by attorneys acting for Mr. Gardner, while on his way home, tripped over a plank on Kentucky avenue between Third and Fourth streets on the night of June 9, 1906. Mr. Gardner alleges that he cut his head and broke his right thumb.

To Reform School.

Hattie Fralley 16 years old and incorrigible, according to her mother, was ordered sent to the state reformatory for a period of three years by Judge R. T. Lightfoot, in the county court this afternoon. The girl's mother lives at the end of North Fourth street beyond Riverside hospital. Patrolman Albert Sencer will take her to Lexington tonight.

Marriage Licenses.

The marriage license clerk at the county court house has not spent the last few hours of her time in idleness. Late licenses issued to couples in search of unending happiness were as follows: J. J. Lagacy, a barber, 40 years old, and Mrs. Ida L. Putnam, aged 45, well known people of Paducah.

Walter E. Leffers, a painter of Tampa, Fla., and Miss Maul R. Wade, of Paducah, Mrs. Leffers, who is extremely pretty, is but eighteen years old, but had the consent of her father.

Frank Dugan, a well known railroad clerk, of Paducah, and Miss Flora Riedel, of Galesburg, Ill., were another handsome young couple granted a license. They are both twenty years old and had the consent of their parents.

In the court items of The Sun yesterday mention was made of a suit for $500 filed by the City National bank against Max Kahn, which should have been Max Kahn.

Gov. Beckham Satisfied.

Frankfort, Ky., August 15.—On the eve of the opening of the Democratic senatorial campaign by Gov. Beckham, the politicians here seem to be decidedly "up in the air," the governor himself being apparently the only one who is not worrying.

"The governor," his friend declared, "is satisfied with affairs as they are, if a fair primary can be assured under the rules adopted. Although Judge McQuown thinks the plan contrary to the laws of the state, there are others who hold that such is not the case, and in the last analysis the situation comes down to this, that, after all the state executive committee has the power to review the selections of the county boards.

THREATENED WITH JAIL.

If He Does Not Explain Some Insurance Matters.

San Francisco, August 15.—Chas. Hendry, local representative of the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance company, must answer all questions propounded by the grand jury or go to jail for contempt of court. Such is the judgment of Presiding Judge Graham, before whom Hendry appeared yesterday on a citation, directing him to show cause why he should not divulge the names of the companies in London and Lancashire whose policies are reinsured and whose "embargo" on the London and Lancashire has made it necessary for the latter to make a horizontal cut on all policies upon payment.

His "Working Clothes."

"I want to get a suit of working clothes," said a man in a clothing store to the salesman who came forward.

"Step this way, sir," politely responded the salesman, and the prospective customer went to the rear of the store, where there were huge piles of jeans and blouses and suits varying in price from $3 to $10.

"These won't do," the customer declared. "I want a dress suit."

"I thought you said you wanted working clothes," ventured the sales man.

"So I did," the customer calmly responded. "That's the kind of clothes I work in. I'm a musician at the theater."

POLITICS IN OHIO IN STRANGE SHAPE

Same Question Meets Different Situations in North and South Sections.

GOSSIP FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, Aug. 15.—Political wisecracks in Washington have long followed the motto "Watch Ohio." In the opinion of well posted observers, the Buckeye state is the most reliable political barometer in the country. Actuated, perhaps, by this belief, both parties are preparing to mass some of their heavy artillery in the state during the coming campaign. Several of the Ohio political leaders have made pilgrimages to New York and Washington during the past fortnight to enlist the services of cabinet officers and other prominent leaders for the autumn campaigns, some of them, like Senator Dick, stopping off for a "purely social call" at Oyster Bay. According to one of these visitors who had been spending a few days here, the opinion is expressed that it is immensely difficult to predict the result of the approaching fight.

"The trouble is," he said, "that the question attracting most attention is neither the tariff nor the trusts, but it is municipal ownership, ordinarily purely a local issue. In the northern part of the state Tom Johnson is booming this issue in his fight with the Cleveland street railways, while in the southern section municipal ownership has received a bad black eye through the revelations in Cincinnati and more recently in Hamilton. In the latter city a report to the state auditor recently showed that the municipal gas and electric light plants had been losing money, that they were incompetently managed, that public officials have been enjoying free current, and that a generally unsatisfactory condition of affairs prevailed. So if municipal ownership is a good rallying cry in one part of the state, it is likely to be a dangerous one in another. That is why we want to get the big guns in action, to talk on the issues raised by the Roosevelt administration. If the present unsettled conditions prevail we shall all be at sea right up to election time."

Fighting for Honor.

Quite a heated controversy has arisen over the selection of the ship to carry the president to Panama this fall—the choice lying between the Louisiana and the Connecticut—and petitions have been filed at Oyster Bay in behalf of each ship. The question of the building of these two ships has entered into the controversy, the Louisiana having been constructed in a private yard and the Connecticut by the government. The friends of each method are anxious that their vessel be chosen, in addition to the support which southerners are giving to the Louisiana and New Englanders to the Connecticut. In spite of the fact that the fittings of the latter vessel are those of a fleet flagship, particularly commodious, it looks as if a question whether the work on the Connecticut can be completed in time. Work on these sister ships was begun simultaneously, but the government was unable to keep up with the pace set by the private builders. However, if the Louisiana is chosen the alterations which will be made will leave nothing to be desired in the way of accommodations. Meanwhile, the president and Secretary Bonaparte, from whom the final decision will come are considering the matter.

Tariff on Lizards.

There are only skirmishes going on at present, it is true, between stand-patters and revisionists, but since straws show which way the wind blows, nothing theoretically is too small to be overlooked. At any rate the country will be highly edified to learn that no less a commodity than dried lizards can now be imported free of duty, a condition due to the reversal by the courts of a ruling of the treasury department in a suit brought by a Chinaman. Another great monopoly is struck, since the domestic lizard is no longer to be protected, but the stand-patters, undaunted by this reversal, are, in the words of Patrick Henry advising the revisionists to make the most of it, dried lizards, it is true would hardly seem to be an important article of commerce, but they are used by all Chinamen as a panacea for the ills to which oriental flesh is heir. They are apparently a necessary prescription, and while the common and garden American lizard is said to be "just as good," the foreign-living Chinaman still clings to the traditions of home, and, vowing that Chinese lizards reach the spot more quickly, is willing to pay an extra price for them. Hence the case in question, for, to meet the demand for this native medicine, one firm in this country imported a large consignment of these dried "varmints," insisting that inasmuch as they were drugs they should come in duty free. The hard-headed custom officials, however, not finding dried lizards on any list dutiable or otherwise, and refusing to admit that they were drugs, put them in the catch-all class of unenumerated articles taking 10 per cent ad valorem duty. It was to this ruling that the importers took exception, a stand in which they were upheld by the courts. But whether the result is to be looked upon as a victory for tariff revisionists, or another manifestation of the yellow peril, depends chiefly on one's politics.

A Mystic Mandolin.

Music mandolins and mysticism is the combination which the sleuths of the postal department have been up against of late. While the first of these three may have the power to soothe the savage breast, its efficiency falls entirely with the post-office people when fraud is involved, and fraud was involved in the case just brought to light by Uncle Sam's detectives, a fraud by which a concern in slow old Quaker town was separating easy victims from their money in a manner not allowed by the postal regulations. It seems that the Philadelphia artists had advertised, under the head of a new invention, that for ten cents they would send to anyone a mystic mandolin whose peculiar quality of mysticism lay in the fact that it was unnecessary to touch the strings, but instead, to look at it only to have the heart strings touched more than by any mandolin in existence. A mandolin that would play and make an impression on the heart without being touched was not to be turned down, and various persons hastened to separate themselves from their money for the acquisition of one. But when the deliveries began, the victims discovered that their heart strings, and their purses, too, had indeed been touched, for the mandolins were made of pasteboard. This was too much, even for Philadelphia, and the postal officials immediately got busy so effectively that mystic mandolins are no more, and hearts are safe from being touched at ten cents per.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1901, by Harper & Brothers

"The man who's got to go is your father."

"Why?" asked Oakley, sinking his voice. He guessed what was coming next, but the question seemed dragged from him. He had to ask it.

"We got nothing against you, Mr. Oakley, but we won't work in the same shop with a convicted criminal."

"That's right," muttered the chorus of men again.

Oakley's face flushed scarlet. Then every scrap of color left it. "Get out of here!" he ordered hotly. "Don't we get our answer?" demanded Branyon.

While the interview was in progress McClintock had entered and now stood at the opposite end of the room, an attentive listener.

"No," cried Oakley hoarsely. "I'll put whom I please to work in the shops. Leave the room, all of you!"

The men retreated before his fury, their self confidence rather dashed by it. One by one they backed sheepishly out of the door, Branyon being the last to leave. As he quitted the room he called to Dan:

"We'll give you until tomorrow to think it over. But the old man's got to go."

McClintock promptly followed Branyon, and Clarence darted after him. He was in time to witness the uncorking of the master mechanic's vials of wrath and to hear the hot exchange of words which followed.

"You can count your days with the Huckleberry numbered, Branyon," he said. "I'm hanged if I'll have you under me after this!"

"We'll see about that!" retorted Branyon roughly. "Talk's cheap."

"What's the old man ever done to you, you infernal loafer?"

"Shut up, Milt, and keep your shirt on!" said Stokes in what he intended should be conciliatory tones. "We only want our rights."

"We'll have 'em, too!" said Branyon, shaking his head ominously. "We ain't dagoes or Polacks; we're American mechanics, and we know our rights."

"You're a sneak, Branyon! What's he ever done to you? You needn't be so particular about the old man's record. You know as much about the inside of a prison as he does."

"You're a liar!" Nevertheless McClintock spoke only the truth. At Branyon's last word he smashed his fist into the middle of the carpenter's sour visage with a heavy, sickening thud. No man called him a liar and got away with it.

"Gee!" gasped the closely attentive but critical Clarence. "What a soak-er!" Branyon fell up against the side of the building near which they were standing. Otherwise he would have gone his length upon the ground, and the hands rushed in between the two men.

Stokes and Bentick dragged their friend away by main strength. The affair had gone far enough. They didn't want a fight.

McClintock marched into the office, crossed to the water cooler and filled himself a tumbler; then he turned an unruffled front on Oakley.

"I guess we'd better chuck those fellows—fire 'em out bodily, the impudent cusses! What do you say, Mr. Oakley?"

But Dan was too demoralized to consider or even reply to this. He was feeling a burning sense of shame and disgrace. The whole town must know his father's history or some garbled version of it. Worse still, Constance Emory must know. The pride of his respectability was gone from him. He felt that he had cheated the world of a place to which he had no right, and now he was found out. He could not face Kerr nor Holt nor McClintock. But this was only temporary. He couldn't stand among his ruins. Men survive disgrace and outlive shame just as they outlive sorrow and suffering. Nothing ever stops. Then he recognized that, since his secret had been wrested from him, there was no longer discovery to fear. A sense of freedom and relief came when he realized this. The worst had happened, and he could still go on. How the men had learned about his father he could not understand, but instinct told him he had Ryder to thank. Following up the clew Kenyon had given him, he had carefully looked into Roger Oakley's record, a matter that simply involved a little correspondence.

"The man who's got to go is your father."

He had told Branyon and Stokes only what he saw fit and had pledged himself to support the men in whatever action they took. He would drive Oakley out of Antioch. That was one of his motives. He was also bent on cultivating as great a measure of personal popularity as he could. It would be useful to Kenyon and so advantageous to himself. The congressman had large ambitions. If he brought his campaign to a successful issue it would make him a power in the state. Counting on this victory, Ryder had mapped out his own career. Kenyon had force and courage, but his judgment and tact were only of a sort. Ryder aspired to supply the necessary brains for his complete success. Needless to say, Kenyon knew nothing of these benevolent intentions on the part of his friend. He could not possibly have believed that he required anything but votes.

Oakley turned to Clarence. "Run into the carpenter shop and see if you can find my father. If he is there ask him to come here to me at once."

The boy was absent only a few moments. Roger Oakley had taken off his work clothes and had gone uptown before the men left the shop. He had not returned.

Dan closed his desk and put on his hat.

"I am going to the hotel," he said to Kerr. "If anybody wants to see me you can tell them I'll be back this afternoon."

"Very well, Mr. Oakley." The treasurer was wondering what would be his superior's action. Would he resign and leave Antioch or would he try and stick it out?

Dan hurried uptown to the hotel. He found his father in his room, seated before an open window in his shirt sleeves and with his Bible in his lap. He glanced up from the book as his son pushed open the door.

"Well, Dannie?" he said, and his tones were mild, meditative and inquiring.

"I was looking for you, father. They told me you'd come uptown."

"So I did. As soon as I heard there was going to be trouble over my working in the shops I left."

"Did they say anything to you?"

"Not a word, Dannie, but I knew what was coming and decided to quit work."

"You shouldn't have done it, daddy," said Dan, seating himself on the edge of the bed near the old man. "I can't get them say who shall work in the shops and who not. The whole business was trumped up out of revenge for the cut. They want to get even with me for that, you see. If I back down and yield this point there is no selling what they'll ask next—probably that the wages be restored to the old figure."

He spoke quite cheerfully, for he saw his father was cruelly hurt.

"It was all a mistake, Dannie—my coming to you, I mean," Roger Oakley said, shutting the book reverently and laying it to one side. "The world's a small place after all, and we should have known we couldn't keep our secret. It's right I should bear my own cross, but it's not your sin, and now it presses hardest on you. I'm sorry, Dannie!" And his voice shook with the emotion he was striving manfully to hide.

"No, no, father. To have you here as been a great happiness to me."

"Has it, Dannie? Has it really?" with a quick smile. "I am glad you can say so, for it's been a great happiness to me—greater than I deserved." And he laid a big hand caressingly on his son's.

"We must go ahead, daddy, as if nothing had happened. If we let this sort us, we'll end by losing all our courage."

"It's been a knockout blow for me, Dannie," with a wistful sadness, "and I've got to go away. It's best for you I should. I've gone in one direction and you've gone another. You can't reconcile opposites. I've been thinking of this a good deal. You're young and got your life ahead of you, and you'll be big things before you're done, and people will forget. I can't drag you down just because I happen to be your father and love you. Why, I'm of a different class even, but I can't go on. I'm just as I am, and I can't change myself."

"Why, bless your heart, daddy," cried Dan. "I wouldn't have you changed! You're talking nonsense. I won't let you go away."

"But the girl, Dannie; the girl—the doctor's daughter! You see, I hear a lot of gossip in the shop, and even if you haven't told me I know."

"We may as well count that at an end," said Dan quietly.

"Do you think of leaving here?"

"No. If I began by running, I'd be running all the rest of my life. I shall remain until I've accomplished everything I've set out to do if it takes ten years."

"And what about Miss Emory, Dannie? If you are going to stay, why is that at an end?"

"I dare say she'll marry Mr. Ryder."

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of indigestion and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

Anyhow, she won't marry me."

"But I thought you cared for her?"

"I do, daddy."

"Then why do you give up? You're as good as he is any day."

"I'm not her kind; that's all. It has nothing to do with this. It would have been the same anyhow. I'm not her kind."

Roger Oakley turned this over slowly in his mind. It was most astonishing. He couldn't grasp it.

"Do you mean that she thinks she is better than you are?" he asked curiously.

"Something of that sort, I suppose," he said. "I want you to come back into the shops, father."

"I can't do it, Dannie. I'm sorry if you wish it, but it's impossible. I want to keep out of sight. Back east when they pardoned me every one knew, and I didn't seem to mind, but here it's not the same. I can't face it. It may be cowardly, but I can't."

CHAPTER XII.

OAKLEY had told his father he was going to call at the Emorys'. He wanted to see Constance once more. Then it didn't much matter what happened.

As he passed up the street he was conscious of an impudent curiosity in the covert glances the idlers on the corners shot at him. With hardly an exception they turned to gaze after him as he strode by. He realized that an unsavory distinction had been thrust upon him. He had become a marked man. He set his lips in a grim smile. This was what he would have to meet until the silly wonder of it wore off or a fresh sensation took its place. And there would be the men at the shops.

There intercourse had hitherto been rather pleasant and personal, as he had recognized certain responsibilities in the relation which had made him desire to be more than a mere taskmaster. The thought of his theories caused him to smile again. His humanitarianism had received a jolt from which it would not recover in many a long day.

The hands already hated him as a tyrant and probably argued that his authority was impaired by the events of the morning, though how they arrived at any such conclusion was beyond him, but he had felt something of the kind in Branyon's manner. When the opportunity came it would be a satisfaction to undeceive them, and he was not above wishing this opportunity might come soon, for his mood was bitter and revengeful when he recalled their ignorant and needlessly brutal insolence.

Early as he was he found, as he had anticipated when he started out, that Ryder was ahead of him. The editor was lounging on the Emorys' porch with the family. He had dined with them.

As Dan approached he caught the sound of Constance's voice. There was no other voice in Antioch which sounded the same or possessed the same quality of refinement and culture. His heart beat with quickened pulsations and his pace slackened. He paused for an instant in the shadow of the lilac bushes that shut off the well kept lawn from the street. Then he forced himself to go on. There was no gain in deferring his sentence. Better have it over with. Yet when he reached the gate he would gladly have passed it without entering had it not been that he never abandoned any project simply because it was disagreeable. He had done too many disagreeable things not to have outlived this species of cowardice.

(To Be Continued.)

DOZEN ENGINES

FITTED UP HERE

Will Haul the Heavy Freight Trains to East.

New Schedule on Memphis Division of Illinois Central Effective Today.

NO MORE PASSES FOR WEST.

A dozen brand new powerful engines of the "800" class recently received by the Illinois Central railroad for service between Paducah and Louisville have been set up for running on their first trips today. All of them are first-class and are the pride of the Paducah shop machinists as the engines were set up in splendid order; the last one being completed Tuesday evening. The new pullers are numbers 866 to 877, inclusive, and will handle the mammoth freight trains between Paducah and the east.

Schedule Changed.

The Illinois Central new time table on the Tennessee division (between Paducah and Memphis) went into effect today. It does not affect the passenger trains in and out of Paducah on that or any other division. The change was made in order to regulate traffic between Jackson, Tenn., and Memphis, Ill., on the old division of the road known as the main line. The time card is No. 29.

Full of Engines.

The Paducah shops and round house of the Illinois Central resembled a huge "locomotive hotel" with a full register today. Counting the engines in the shops and round house there was a total of 84 at one time this morning receiving attention by the small army of machinists, boiler-makers, copper workers and carpenters. Counting the tender of each engine gave a total of 164 pieces in the steel and iron working departments of the shops.

Everything was being done to an engine from tightening a screw or brightening brass to rebuilding a top on a good pair of trucks. New tires were being fitted on by the dozens. Several of the engines were receiving new boilers, while the carpenter department was dotted with new cabs resembling a city of dog houses.

There was not a vacant pit in the machine shop and several tracks were filled with engines of all sizes and ages awaiting a turn.

Besides the company's own, there were several dinky, dwarf-like looking engines from the coal and cross country lines that branch out from the Illinois Central's main lines.

With reference to reports circulated in the east to the effect that a concerted movement with the Pennsylvania in the lead, for the purpose of testing the validity of the new rate law, would be inaugurated when the courts resume shortly after the law goes into effect, the Pennsylvania management has sent out a denial so far as that system is concerned.

Passes to Be Canceled.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 15.—The mid-western railroads have ordered all passes canceled after August 28, and thousands of annuals, supposed to be good for the entire year, will be called in on the day the new rate law goes into effect. Orders were issued today by all the roads having headquarters in Omaha, including the Harriman roads, to limit the return portion of all trip passes to August 28, and to notify holders of annuals that they were not good after that date.

Boon of Half Holidays.

Bishop Warren, of Denver, was praising in Philadelphia the Saturday half holiday. Suddenly he laughed.

"I remember," he said, "one hot day in New York visiting the offices of a friend of mine, a wholesale coffee merchant."

"I was weak and listless with the heat. Every one on the street was pale, and drooping, and dispirited. People felt generally that instead of trying to work they should be taking a nap in the draft of an electric fan."

"But in my friend's office all was bustle, hustle and enthusiasm. On fire with zeal, the clerks ran hither and yon, or bent over great ledgers with the absorption a young lady gives to a good novel."

"I clapped my friend on the shoulder."

"'Jack,' said I, 'it must be pleasant and profitable to have an office corps so full of energy and enthusiasm as this.'"

"'Well,' said Jack, awkwardly, 'it's not that exactly today. Today, you see, is a half holiday, and they are getting ready to go home.'"

All Dead.

Representative Adamson, of Georgia while coming to Washington one day not long ago, noticed a crowd around the depot at one of the stations on the Southern, down in North Carolina, and poked his head out of the window and asked a negro:

"Adam, what's the matter here?"

"Jim Johnson's dead, sah," was the answer.

"Somebody shoot him?"

"No, sah; nobody done nuthin' to him; he jis died all to once unannounced."

Gulf Stream is Creeping Up Coast and It Presages a Gentle Winter

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—Captain Jensen of the fruit steamer Admira. Schley, which arrived this morning, brought news of the erratic movement of the gulf stream, which is running out of its usual course, and in thick weather might send vessels miles out of their way. He said that ordinarily the stream runs from latitude 34 degrees to latitude 38 degrees north, where it branches off to the eastward, and is lost to vessels bound to Boston. Now it is running strongly from latitude 34 degrees to latitude 40 degrees and 15 minutes or within 25 miles of Nantucket south shoal lightship. The temperature of the water was 80 degrees, while in the stream and immediately after leaving it dropped to 65. Capt. Jensen said that the change in the course of the stream is thought to portend a mild winter.

ROUGH HOUSE

DISTURBS THE DIGNITY OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Glass Light Shade Broken and Books Strewn Over Floor—Whole Room Disordered.

Somebody made strange use of the council chamber on the second floor of the city hall last night and the room this morning presents as disreputable appearance as a banquet hall in the slums.

The principal mischief was done inside the circle of imposing chairs on which the august boards of the general council recline during their sessions. Copies of the rules of the general council and edicts of the board of health were scattered in heaps over the floor, everything loose was lying in the wrong place and on the wrong side, and a green glass light shade over the gas jet that graces the desk of Henry Bailey, city clerk, was smashed in a dozen pieces.

Under the bench of President McBroom, of the lower board, four pint beer bottles were standing in martial array, but devoid of ammunition.

No one around the city hall has the least idea who created the rough house.

All Engagements.

At the McFadden studio, please postpone until the 23rd. Mr. McFadden is out of the city.

—We handle the best players on the market; we also handle a cheap player. See us for prices. D. H. Baldwin & company, 520 Broadway.

MANY TRUNKS

TAKEN BY FLEEING PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO INSTITUTION.

Woman Aids Him in His Escape, for Which He Had Planned Many Weeks.

Chicago, August 15.—Information indicating that extensive preparations for flight were made by Paul O. Stensland, former president of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue State bank, and that a woman entered into the preparations was secured by Assistant States Attorney Olson today through cross-examination of Mrs. Ellen McCracken, a house keeper for Stensland.

It was learned that Stensland took with him in trunks and boxes, bedding, towels, window curtains, carpets, rugs and a silver dinner set. Some of this is said to have been traced to Baraboo, Wis., but a big trunk said to have been taken by Stensland the detectives have not been able to get trace of. The trunk is said to be 3 feet high and is bound with iron. The box traced to Baraboo weighed 375 pounds, when placed on an express wagon at the Stensland home the day of the flight.

Telegrams have been sent all over the world to dispatchers to look for the trunk.

For pictures at the McFadden Studio will be honored until September 1st.
